How do I obtain CPD Points?

How to obtain Public CPD Points

- Attend an Accredited CPD Activity. See CALAS (www.silecpdcentre.sg/calas) for a full list of Accredited CPD Activities.
- Perform certain roles in the Part A and Part B Courses and the Foreign Practitioner Examinations.

How to obtain Private CPD Points

- Review an eligible multimedia, Internet-based, audio-visual, audio or video programme or material.
- Attend an eligible non-accredited activity.
- Attend an in-house seminar conducted for lawyers.

See <https://www.silecpdcentre.sg/Lawyer/CPD-Requirement/> for more examples and further details.

What do I need to note for Accredited CPD Activities?

Before activity – Indicate to the event organiser that you wish to obtain CPD Points. You will usually be asked to provide your AAS No. /s36B FL No. when registering for the activity.

During activity – Comply with the Attendance Policy. This includes signing in and signing out of the activity. Indicate the time in and time out, write legibly, sign on the correct line, and check that your signatures match. The Attendance Policy may require you to not be absent from the activity for more than 15 minutes, or not be absent for any part of the activity at all –see the event brochure or website for the applicable Attendance Policy for a specific event.

After activity – Keep records and evidence of your participation. These include, but are not limited to, proof of registration and copies of any handouts provided.

How do I keep track of my CPD Points?

You can use your ePortfolio account on CPD Centre (<https://www.silecpdcentre.sg/>) to record the CPD Points you obtain.

- Public CPD Points are automatically updated within a month of the event
- Private CPD Points must be self-recorded in the Learning History section
